

LOCAL.

Mrs. Knowles visited with Mrs. Milford at Otis Wednesday.

Jan G. Mendors of the New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell arrived in town an hour yesterday.

F. E. Roessler the popular immigration agent of the P. V. and T. & P. came in yesterday.

Mrs. A. R. Teeple and little son who have been visiting at Brenham and Baird Tex. for several weeks returned Thursday.

Messrs. Tansill, Tracy and W. G. Hamilton departed Thursday for Colorado Springs on business connected with the P. L. & I. Co.

Mr. Stokes returned Wednesday from a two week trip to the Hat ranch over in Texas where Lawrence Ryan Mr. Stokes' son in law lives.

J. B. Toome and wife who went to London Eng. for a visit with the old folks at home in February will return about October 1st, to their Otis home.

W. G. Hamilton has resigned his position as assistant general manager of the P. L. & I. Co. to look after the Roswell Land & Water Co. interests at Roswell.

Charley Wright of Otis who went over to Alamogordo looking for something to engage in returned this week. He was not favorably impressed with the outlook.

Mr. Oscar Sassin is mentioned as a candidate for commissioner from the Seven Rivers and Hope district. Mr. Sassin is a good man and would make a first class commissioner.

Water was turned into the rebuilt flume last Sunday evening and by Thursday of this week the farmers of the valley were being given water as fast as it would go around.

A. S. Hawkins the Midland lawyer, J. M. Seandin and party who went out in the Sacramento mountains for an outing are expected in to-day or to-morrow.

The business men's Committee of the Union Club are busy organizing for the establishing of a wool scouring plant in Eddy. It is said plenty of capital is on hand for the establishing of the plant.

Chas. Bull of the Las Cruces Democrat was a passenger on the south bound train yesterday returning home from a visit to Roswell. He was accompanied by the veteran newspaper man Jim Curran of Clayton.

The household goods of E. O. Faulkner general manager of the P. V. & N. E. arrived this week and are stored to await the arrival of Mr. Faulkner's family from Los Angeles Cal. The headquarters of the railway are permanently located at Eddy.

Mr. J. B. Dorman who spent the early part of this season with Jno. O. McKee on his goat ranch will return shortly from a trip to Iowa. Mr. Dorman has benefited much by New Mexico climate and intends to make his home here.

The Pecos News writes that the West Texas Press Association will meet in Pecos Sept. 21. Mr. Smith will probably bring the editors to Eddy and Roswell and they will be entertained in both places with the same old time hospitality the valley is noted for.

J. W. Blythe who moved a billiard hall outfit to Alamogordo recently, returned Thursday. He stored his outfit to wait for the town to grow. Meehan & Co. have camped near the summit of the Sacramento in a deserted house, but have not unpacked their goods.

The lately arrived son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lowenbruck was baptised and christened Sunday at St. Edward's, by Rev. Kemper. According to the wish of the patriotic sirs, the little fellow will bear the name Daniel Sehey Lowenbruck. It is to be hoped he will honor his name.

Jno. Girard one of the employees of the beet sugar factory was struck in the right temple while cutting bolts Tuesday afternoon by the end of a bolt flying up and cutting an ugly gash and opening an artery from the effects of which he nearly bled to death before the arrival of a doctor. He is getting better now.

The democratic primaries will open Saturday Sept. 21 early in the morning when those who expect to vote for county officials, will have their only opportunity, the fall election being, in this county only the ratifying of the election of the officials which is done at the primaries. It is of prime importance therefore that all turn out for it is poor policy to let gangs control it and it is not necessary.

E. S. Shattuck son of Capt. Shattuck was thrown from his horse and his right hand badly lacerated from the effects of which he carries it in a sling. He was after cattle northwest of Blue spring when his horse struck a gully covered with grass while going at full speed in an endeavor to head off a bunch of wild cattle. The high grass causes many falls for the cow boys now a days on account of the impossibility of a horse seeing the holes in the prairie.

Resolutions.

Report of committee on the death of sister A. J. Emerson.

Whereas, sister Emerson has been such an active and earnest member of our Aid society since her coming into our midst. And whereas she has served us so faithfully and efficiently as president.

And whereas, God has honored us with her association, counsel and christian example. And whereas, God in his wisdom has taken her from us to her inheritance with the saints in glory.

Therefore resolved:—That we humbly submit to the dealings of our loving heavenly Father in taking her from us to himself.

Resolved, that we place on record our appreciation of her great worth as a former collaborator in the master's vineyard. Resolved that we strive to emulate in our lives, her devotion and consecration to the Lord's work.

Resolved that a copy of these preambles and resolutions be sent to the West Tex. Baptist for publication, a copy to her beloved husband and children, and the same be spread on the minutes of our society.

MISS LENA BEEMAN,
MRS. A. GREEN,
MRS. C. W. COWDEN,
Committee.

New Company Officials.

Wednesday the names of the officials of the P. L. & I. Co. under its present management were given out. They are, R. W. Tansill, receiver and general manager; C. S. Motter, auditor and cashier; F. G. Tracy, land commissioner and W. M. Reed chief engineer. All of the officials are property owners and residents of the valley and are too well known to require extended mention. Mr. Tansill was the first capitalist to invest in the P. L. & I. Co. Mr. Motter came here in 1891 and has been a hard and conscientious worker for the valley ever since and has spent a small fortune on his La Huerta residence property thus demonstrating his faith in the valley. Mr. Tracy has been in business since 1892 and has grown one of the largest and finest peach orchards in the valley. He is also heavily interested in lands and town property. His knowledge of land is not exceeded by that of any other man in the valley. He will fill the place of land commissioner exceptionally well. Mr. Reed was also one of the first in the valley after the irrigation improvement began and assisted in the engineering of the great irrigation works during the construction period since which time he has been in the constant employ of the companies. He has also invested his capital in a fine little ten acre residence property northeast of Roswell. The gentlemen are the right men for the places and if the country does not prosper, it will be through no fault of the company.

The Dunkards.

The following are the names of the party of young Dunkards who tarried in Eddy Saturday, Sunday and Monday:

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. M. Wilson, J. W. Wilson and Master Glenn Wilson, of Lincoln, Indiana; Mrs. S. Stanley, Mrs. A. C. Brown, of Galveston; Mrs. Minnie E. Myers, of Wawpecong; Thomas Glynn, of Deer Creek; L. A. Shrively of Nead; Miss Hattie Kitchell, Miss Lulu Kitchell, A. D. Kitchell, Emerson Kitchell, Marion Babb of Deacon; Miss May Toney, S. P. Beechdel, A. O. Hansen, of Walton; Miss Maud Mays, Miss Louisa Wilson of Onward; Miss Edna Ely, of Barstow Tex.

The party traveled in their own car and were in charge of J. M. Gore of the Cotton Belt Ry. While here they were entertained at the club rooms and taken in carriages to all points of interest in the valley. The visitors expressed themselves as being of the opinion that Eddy is the finest town of its size seen on the trip from Indiana. The party was composed principally of teachers of the public schools who have taken this way of spending their vacation though there were several in the party who are engaged in business and one is a sheep man who contemplates coming to New Mexico to enlarge his business.

The Columbia minstrels under the direction of Will H. Locke at the opera house last Wednesday night proved away up and out of sight. The best player among the home talent is Arthur Draper. His delineation of negro character would do credit to any old time coon. All the members of this minstrel performance did well and Messrs. Locke and Emerson are to be congratulated upon the successful outcome of their efforts. The next entertainment will be given about September 1st and will be the well known drama "Kathleen Mavourneen". It is promised that the Irish brogue will not be murdered but will be done properly by those who know how to talk English with a proper Irish accent, the richest and sweetest ever heard.

Bob Marlin Killed.

At Clayton saw mill on the Pecos about thirty five miles east of La Luz James Cole shot and killed Bob Marlin.

The circumstances leading up to the killing given by our Pecos correspondent is as follows:—
"Our first acquaintance with Mr. Marlin was when a short time ago he came from the west side of the Sacramento mountains and bought a water power saw mill to be conducted for a short time and on account of some misunderstanding or disagreement, the mill was turned back to A. H. Clayton, the former owner. Since then Mr. Marlin has been away a good deal of the time. We met Mr. Cole for the first time about that time. Mr. Cole coming here as an employee of Mr. Marlin. It seems that Marlin had not paid Cole his salary due him and turned over his outfit to him as security. Cole continued to work at the mill until August 2nd. Mr. Marlin returned, and had Mr. Cole return his outfit to him. A few hours after his return Mr. Marlin called Mr. Cole and after a short conversation, accused Mr. Cole of having been the cause of his trouble with his wife. This was denied by Cole. Marlin then called him a d—n liar, drew a dirk knife from inside his vest and attacked Cole, who dodged the knife thrust drew his gun and fired, shooting Marlin through the brain. Cole surrendered to the justice of the peace and after a preliminary hearing was discharged. When Cole gave up his gun he remarked, "I wish somebody else had had to do it."—Sacramento Chief.

Marlin was well known around Eddy having resided here for several years previous to the spring of 1895.

The Editor and Bad Man.

For some time past The Chief has made war on the low dive located at La Luz, which it seems is conducted by one Joe Laquay. At any rate, the said Joe Laquay last Thursday attacked Mr. Lightfoot in the following cowardly manner. Joe Laquay was in front of the Casino saloon, watched the editor of this paper enter E. W. Brown's store, and then quickly crossed the street and awaited the exit of the editor. Joe Laquay did not strike the editor as he passed by, as some cowards do, nor waylay and strike him from behind. Instead, Joe Laquay did something else. He caught his right hand with the left and struck him with his right, and after striking him attempted to kick in his brains, an act that even a Spaniard would not be guilty of. Joe Laquay is a big powerful man, weighing about 200 pounds, while Mr. Lightfoot is a cripple, and partially blind, unable to hold his own even with a twelve year old child. The only excuse that Laquay gave was that the Chief helped to drive his low dive and its women from La Luz. Joe Laquay threatened to kill the editor if his name appeared in this paper. The business manager of the Chief is responsible for this article, and if Joe Laquay wants an apology he can come to us.—Sacramento Chief.

The business manager referred to is A. J. Papen of the Las Cruces Republican who has taken charge of the Chief during the indisposition of the editor. Mr. Lightfoot.

Mr. Jordon who lived on a homestead near Neil Wells has sold to Montgomery & Flannigan of Stanton Tex. who will move their cattle up to this county.

To Trade:—Forty acres of fine land, deeded without incumbrance; under canal, twelve miles south of Eddy for a good cow. Enquire at this office.

For Dissemper.

A large number of horses are afflicted with distemper around Eddy just now, and many are at a loss to know what to do for this disorder, which causes the animal to lose flesh so rapidly. Among the many cures such as burning feathers and woolen rags under the horse's nose the following is undoubtedly the best: Take equal parts, stramonium, gun powder and wheat flower; mix with water enough to make paste; roll into sheets and dry. Burn a piece under the animal's nose after blanketing the head—if he will let you. A good way is to use a bee smoker. Put coals into the smoker, then apiece of this dried medicine and puff the smoke into the nostrils. The feed should be mostly bran and grain well soaked with small doses of sulphur in the feed. Too much hay is not a good thing for horses afflicted with distemper.

For Rent:—Five room cottage at ten dollars a month.
